AMELIA JONES

JR WEB DEVELOPER

PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a jr software developer with experience in designing, coding, and testing systems. I enjoy working in a team and finding creative solutions together. I'm always looking to improve both myself and my skills, and using the valuable people skills I developed through my decade of retail experience to work as part of a team. I pride myself in being creative when out of the box thinking is needed in problem solving

SKILLS

- Work as part as a team
- Multitasking
- Engage with customers
- Ability to take feedback

PROJECTS

React portfolio

NEW PORTFOLIO BUILT ON REACT

Created a new portfolio using new skills React and npm packages as well as using old skills such as CSS and Html.

Eorzea Homes

RUBY ON RAILS TWO SIDED MARKETPLACE

Two sided marketplace app built using Ruby, Rails, Bootstrap, CSS, Devise, PostgreSQL, AWS and deployed on Herkou. The purpose of Eorzea Homes is to easily connect FF XIV players who want to decorate their homes with designers who offer their services. Since this is a two sided marketplace it allows for anyone who plays FF to be a designer.

Daily Horoscope App

REACT AND API HACKATHON APP

An app that will tell you your daily horoscope with an added bonus of random galaxy images on each horoscope page. Created using React, CSS, Pexel API, Aztro Api deployed on Heroku.

Leeroy vs The World

RUBY BUILT TERMINAL APP

This is a quick turn-based fighting game based on the adventures my dog, Leeroy goes on. The app emulates the combat elements of Tabletop Roleplaying Games with the fight menu similar to that of the game Pokemon. This was created in Ruby to help understand the syntax and to play around with gems.

Portfolio v1

PURE HTML AND CSS PORTFOLIO

This was the first website I built ground up using only pure HTML and CSS.
